

Pres. Becker Has Attack Over Christmas Vacation

Dr. Conrad Becker, Wartburg College president, suffered a heart attack at his home on Dec.

Visiting Choir Here Jan. 28

As part of their scheduled tour, Augustana College Choir from Sioux Falls, S. D., will present a concert for convocation here Tuesday, Jan. 28. From Wartburg, the choir will go to Wisconsin.

A new series of Sources of Religious Authority will be introduced by Dr. Robert Jensen on Thursday, Jan. 30. Dr. Jensen is the head of the Philosophy Department at Luther College, Decorah.

In later convocation, liberal and conservative religion will be discussed by guest speakers. The Wartburg Religion Department will present a discussion of neo-religion.

Snow Weekend Events Set For February 14, 15

Recent weather conditions prove that it is Snow Weekend time once again. This year's frosty holiday is being planned for the weekend of Feb. 14 and 15, according to sophomore Bill Hamm, general chairman.

Theme for the event will be chosen by means of a contest which all students may enter. The contest will open Monday, and continue until 4 p.m. Saturday.

Entries should be placed in the container provided on the counter in the Den. A prize for the entry chosen as the theme will be tickets for two to the talent show and dance.

Snow weekend will open with the crowning of the king and queen preceding the talent show on Friday evening.

Each housing unit, both off- and on-campus, is to select two candidates, one for king and one for queen. These candidates.

Dress Casual During Exams

Informal attire can be worn during breakfast and lunch Jan. 20-24, according to Mrs. Florence Hertlein, dean of women.

However, regular classroom dress must be worn to tests and dinner. Wednesday will not be a dress-up night.

Art Students Will Present Mon. Chapel

"Christ in Seven Dimensions" is the theme of a special chapel service to be conducted by the Liturgical Arts class Monday at 6:30 p.m.

After studying church architecture, liturgy, symbols and their meanings and purpose in worship, each member of the class designed a symbol of Christ and wrote a corresponding liturgy.

To provide a different and meaningful visual aid to worship, the symbols will be illuminated in black light.

Since the purpose of liturgy is to actively unite and involve the congregation in worship, the congregation will participate through responses.

28. He was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Waverly, and doctors report his condition to be improved.

There are decided restrictions on visitors.

His condition of health is posted daily on the bulletin board outside the treasurer's office for the benefit of students and faculty members.

Wartburg College administration has temporarily been turned over to a three-man staff in the absence of Pres. Becker.

Dr. J. O. Chellevold, dean of faculty; the Rev. Merritt Bomhoff, assistant to the president in the area of development and public relations; and Walter Fredrick, Jr., assistant in the area of business affairs, are currently assuming Dr. Becker's duties.

It cannot be determined at this time when Dr. Becker will be permitted to return to his desk.

however, will not be considered a couple.

Voting will take place in convocation, eliminating all but six finalists, three for king and three for queen.

Snow sculptures will be judged Saturday noon. All dorms, off-campus housing units and organizations are asked to create sculptures and exhibits. Organization heads will be given further details in a letter sent by the Weekend committee.

"It is our aim to improve Snow Weekend through building bigger and better exhibits," said Chairman Hamm.

Saturday will continue with the spotlight on sports. A wrestling meet against Luther College will be held in Knights Gym in the afternoon, and the Knights will face Upper Iowa University in basketball competition Saturday night.

An informal dance following the game will put the finishing touches on weekend festivities. It will be held in Knights Gym from 9:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m.

Heading various committees are freshmen Kathrine and Kathleen Kriesel, sophomore Carol Wessels and juniors Randy Marsh and Dan Moeller.

Invitations To Sent To Area

Invitations to Wartburg College's annual Band Festival have been sent to all high school music departments within a 200-mile radius of Waverly.

Scheduled for March 21, this year's clinic will feature instructions for full bands by Tom Davis of the State University of Iowa, Dr. William Tietze of Wisconsin State of Platteville and Phil Sehman of Cresco.

Other clinicians include Dr. Myron Russell, professor of music at State College of Iowa, flutes; John E. Bentley of the Wartburg Music Department, oboe and bassoon; Roland Brom, Waverly-Shell Rock High School band director, trumpet.

Also included are Robert Gower, Charles City band director, French horn; Dr. William Gower, professor of music at SUI, trombone; Dr. David E. Kennedy, professor of music at SCI, tuba and baritone; and Dr. James E. Fritschel and Robert E.

Wartburg Players Will Present 'Born Yesterday' On Feb. 5, 6, 7

DEE DREIER, senior, as Billie Dawn, and Al Sandau, senior, as Harry Brock, rehearse one of the more serious scenes for the second college production. "Born Yesterday" will be presented in the Chapel-auditorium Feb. 5, 6 and 7.

This play, first produced in New York in 1946, had one of the longest runs in history. Primarily a comedy, it also has moments of dramatic interest.

Wartburg College Players will present the famous comedy "Born Yesterday" on Feb. 5, 6 and 7. It will be the second college theater production of the year.

This famous play has had one of the longest runs in history, first produced in New York in 1946.

Scene of the play is Washington, D.C. It is here that the rich, egotistic junkman, Harry Brock, has come to make somewhat questionable deals with the government.

He brings with him the charming, but rather dumb ex-chorus girl Billie, who is really a tool for Harry's schemes. The young reporter, Paul Verrall, is interested in Brock's activities and agrees to tutor Billie in politics and social graces.

In spite of her background, Billie has a naturally honest and frank streak in her and a willingness to learn. However, she then begins to realize what Harry really is.

At a dramatic moment she rebels, realizing she can no longer have anything to do with Brock. Thus, the final scenes are a blend of comedy and serious overtones in which right conquers might.

Featured in the cast are Dee Ann Dreier, senior, as Billie Dawn; Al Sandau, senior, as Harry Brock; and Dave Hutson, junior, as Paul Verrall.

Supporting players are Dave Foege, freshman; sophomores Francis Wollenzien, Dave Perkins, Ron Kuehl and Sarah Steidinger; and Nancy Keel, senior.

Director John Gill will be assisted by Carol Arendt, junior.

Mrs. Douglas Will Instruct At Wartburg

Mrs. Louise Douglas will be a part-time instructor in the Speech Department for second semester, according to Dr. John O. Chellevold, dean of faculty. She will teach the speech correction course on Monday evenings.

Mrs. Douglas is a graduate of Pacific Lutheran University and did her graduate work at the University of Oregon, where she received a graduate assistantship in speech pathology.

She was a speech therapist at the University Speech and Hearing Clinic and received her master of science degree in speech pathology and audiology in 1960.

Upon graduation, Mrs. Douglas held the position of speech and hearing therapist at the Blair County Hospital for Crippled Children and Adults in Altoona, Pa.

When her family moved to Norman, Okla., she became a speech therapist for the Oklahoma Cerebral Palsy Center.

She is the wife of Donald G. Douglas, full-time member of the Wartburg College Speech Department.

15 Will Be Jan. Grads

Fifteen Wartburg students will have completed requirements for graduation at the end of this semester. They will return in May for commencement exercises.

Receiving a B.A. degree in business administration and economics are Richard S. Cochran, Hampton; Michael T. Hamm, Sac

City; Leland F. Hinrichs, Lytton; Roland J. Platte, Sumner; and Durwood D. Thomas, Hampton.

Ann Marie Hartmann, Goose Lake, will receive a B.A. degree in business education; Phyllis Ann Akers, Dows, a B.A. degree in English.

Receiving B.A.'s in social work will be Karen I. Friedrichs, Farnhamville; and Norman F. Woelber, Hull.

Margaret B. Hill, Waverly; and Leota Gebers Lenning, Auburn, Neb., will receive B.S. degrees in elementary education.

David Arthur Nickel, Clara City, Minn., will receive a bachelor of music education in piano. Jerald Walter Schara, Middleton, Wis., will receive a B.A. in chemistry.

Receiving B.A. degrees in physical education will be Francis Dale Merrill, Waverly; and Rodney D. Von Holten, Waverly.

Band Festival High Schools

Lee, both of Wartburg, ensembles.

Davis will also teach percussion; Dr. Tietze, clarinet; and Sehman, saxophone.

Deadline for registration is Feb. 16, according to Lee, who heads planning for the annual event.

Schedule for the day-long affair is as follows: solos and ensembles, 9 a.m. - 12 noon; full bands, 9 a.m. - 12 noon; a concert hour, 1 - 2 p.m.; and class lessons, 2 - 4 p.m.

Registration Of Guns Necessary

All firearms will now have to be registered with housemothers in the dorms or the person in charge in the outlying houses, according to a ruling made by the President's Cabinet this past week.

Registrations will then be turned into the office of the dean of students and kept there on permanent record.

This measure was passed after a recommendation of the Men's Co-ordinating Board that "Dean Oppermann ask that all firearms be registered with him."

This ruling, which goes into effect next week, was passed for the protection of gun owners.

Study Is The Answer

Procrastination. It plagues the college students and perhaps even the teachers. The meaning is a definition we would just as soon forget; but it's all too familiar.

It is the excuse that says, semester exams don't begin until next week, so the studies shouldn't either. It was the reason for leaving the term paper until Christmas vacation. Then it was the reason for always finding something else to do during the holidays.

Term papers are due and final exams are here. It's too late an hour before the test or a day before the paper is due to put aside your procrastinating. The time is NOW.

Many of us express fearful feelings regarding the coming days. If we'd spend half the time studying that was spent worrying and complaining, our work would be finished much sooner.

Many times the things that we worried about don't materialize anyway, so we've just wasted time.

Epictetus, the philosopher, once said, "Men are disturbed, not by the things that happen, but by their opinions of things."

How many of you have said, "I know I just flunked that test"? Perhaps you even spent some time worrying about it, only to find that you had done satisfactory work.

Studying could have made this worry less, and without procrastination the time for studying could have been more.

Study can be the word to overcome worry and procrastination.

Only Recall

Perhaps many of you are tired of the reminiscences which most daily newspapers featured just before the New Year. High and low points of 1963 were recalled and recounted.

But what was it like at Wartburg during the past year? For one thing, all organization heads changed and the campus didn't collapse this fall without the class of 1963 after all. So, Class of '64, perhaps the campus will survive your graduation also.

Spring outflly did come in '63 and so did the outflly of fall. Perhaps the biggest surprises of the year came at the end of May when final exams were sprung and again in Nov. when mid-semester exams came. It was shocking.

Generally, 1963 was a year of advancement for Wartburg. Convocations, with few exceptions were stimulating, only finishing touches remain on the union addition, steps toward a science hall were made, teachers were enlightening and perhaps even some student apathy died.

Through death, two losses were suffered at Wartburg. The deaths of two great people, Dr. Edwin Sandberg and John Kennedy were certainly low points of the year.

What will happen in 1964? Perhaps you may experience the loss of a loved one. You may enter your chosen vocation. You might fall in love. It could be that you may even receive an "A" on your finals next week.

We cannot forsee the future which is a blessing. We can only recall.

Good Health . . .

Members of the Trumpet Staff and the entire Wartburg Student Body wish Dr. C. H. Becker improved health. Our prayers are with him in his hours of convalescence, and we hope it will not be too long before he will be returning to the campus.

'The Lady Killers' Portrays Light Comedy, But Is Criticized For Lack Of Originality

By Katie Maahs

A light British comedy, reminiscent of an old favorite, "Arsenic and Old Lace," was the movie sponsored by the English Department last Tuesday night. "The Lady Killers" stars Alec Guinness as the leader of a group of English criminals posing ostensibly as musicians.

Guinness, as Professor Marcus, on a rainy, bleak night, inquires at the house of a "sweet, little, old lady" for rooms to rent. He takes the rooms, and the next day his "friends" start arriving. From then on, the movie takes on the aspects of a slapstick comedy, complete with prat falls and broken chairs.

The intended crime, a robbery of an armored car, is well-planned by the organizer of the gang, Professor Marcus. However, the members of his gang aren't as well-organized. In fact, they remind one of the Keystone Cops comedies seen many years ago.

The gang has the old lady, Mrs. Wilburforce, pick up the money. The crooks throughout this episode are perturbed by her behavior and draw matches to decide who will kill her.

One by one, the gang members kill each other instead, until only Professor Marcus is left. And then he too is killed accidentally.

Throughout the movie, the music themes used add to the story by injecting humor, drama or even simple "walking music."

The darkness permeating "The Lady Killers" also contributed to the movie, although this darkness at times was just too dark, and parts of some scenes were difficult to understand because of this.

"The Lady Killers" is a good representation of English comedy, but there seemed to be nothing original in it. The same story, only with different characters and a different setting, can be seen on television any night.

In general, the movie was different from the previous ones in the English series, though it was not as interesting nor as outstanding as the others.

Trumpeters Must Study

Semester tests are coming, The Trumpeters need time To catch up all the reading The professors did assign. They need to pass their tests Just as desperately as you, So think of them next week When the Trumpets don't come through.

Only Through Work Is Love Understood

By Kathryn Becker

To love is to understand grief. Perhaps you've noticed it, too. When one gives love, one gives oneself completely, without reservation. And one who loves is the most vulnerable.

To love is to bring heaven down to earthly understanding.

To love is to believe in someone besides yourself. It is to have unalterable faith in another. Others may question, but one who loves does not.

To love is to be humble in the knowledge that without the other, life is without meaning.

To love is to consider someone else before self. Another's needs and desires are placed before one's own. There is no longer "I"; it is replaced by "you" or "we."

To love is to live. It gives meaning and emphasis to life itself. Without it, there is mere existence. Life must be shared to be appreciated.

To love is to ask for love in return. Love is like a fire. It cannot burn endlessly. It must be kindled or it will go out.

To love one is to love all. It is not something which remains stagnant. The feeling is so strong that it pervades all that one does.

To love is to love diversely. It includes parents, friends, foreigners and country, freedom, ideals.

To love is to fight for love. Without works then love is just a word.

To love is to forgive. There is no such thing as holding a grudge or being bitter.

To love is to know God.

SPOTLIGHT ON SPORTS

Saturday, January 11, 1964, Waverly, Iowa

Knights Upset Beavers

In stunning fashion, the Knights knocked off league leading Buena Vista to the tune of 79 to 64. It took a devastating come back in the second half to stave off the Buena Vista charge.

Knights spanked BV with 48 points in the second half. It was evident from the jump beginning the second half that the Knights were charged up enough and were equal to the challenge.

First half play opened slowly with the teams trading early baskets. BV opened a 7-4 lead at 15:30 on the strength of the out shooting of BV's all-conference guard Dick Point.

Action picked up considerably the rest of the half. Wartburg cagers went into a momentary lead 20-19 on the shooting of Lowell Syverson and Dick Ridout.

From this point the Beavers looked like they were going to take charge for the rest of the affair, with Point pointing the way with 19 tallies in the first half. BV led at the half 38-31.

But the Knights were not to be denied the verdict. Dick Ridout and Al Buenning pulled the Knights back in the game with three quick buckets and from here on out the game was all Wartburg.

The turning point came when Coach Jaspers put in sophomore Jerry Zehr as a defensive measure. Zehr gave the Knights the spark they needed and with twelve minutes left the Knights lead 54-49.

From here on out it was the good shooting and the board work of the Knights which carried them to a twenty point lead 75-55 with only 4:50 left to play.

Dick Ridout lead the Knights with 19 points while Al Buenning contributed 17, Cliff Cameron 13, and Lowell Syverson 11 for a well-balanced attack. All-conference guard Dick Point and Larry Dick lead the Beavers with 24 and 13 points respectively.

Knights take on the Simpson Redmen tonight in Knights gym in an attempt to better their conference record to 4-2 and move up considerably in the conference standings. Simpson lost Friday afternoon to Luther at Decorah and should be out to win lead by Jim Hensley, third leading scorer in the Iowa Conference.

Knights Defeat Dubuque 71-54 After Two Dakota Setbacks

Wartburg Knights made a roaring return to conference action on Jan. 4 by slapping a 71-54 defeat on the Spartans of Dubuque University. Al Buenning led the Knights with 17 points and 16 rebounds.

Over the Christmas holidays, Wartburg gave two strong South Dakota cage teams all they could handle.

After going down to defeat at the hands of South Dakota State, Brookings, by a 94-81 score, Jaspers' hoopsters battled South Dakota University, Vermillion, right down to the final gun, only to lose 85-84.

Cliff Cameron paced the Knights with 20 points. Harold Shudlick chipped in 15 points while Buenning grabbed 10 rebounds in the losing cause.

State College of Iowa put a sour note in Wartburg's basketball tune by blasting the Knights 85-59 in a game just before the Christmas break. SCT's "ever-present" mainstay, Pete Spoden, appeared too much for Wartburg's boardmen by dropping in 17 points and hauling down 22 rebounds.

One small pleasant aspect for the Wartburg fans was that Don Hein, one of Wartburg's all-time scoring greats now playing for SCI, was held to just four points.

The last time Wartburg appeared on the Parsons home court, the Knights pinned a 102-92 loss on the Wildcats of Parsons. Guards Medlang and Ridout led the Knight attack, in a game filled with sharp elbows, quick tempers and flying fists, with 14 points each.

Squires made their last appearance on Dec. 14, when they coasted to a 93-63 victory over Marion DX. All of Kurt's underclassmen saw action with Dave Burrack and Arlen Kruger leading the way with 14 and 13 points, respectively.

Kethamen Win Championship

Ketha House won the inter-league play-off in intramural volleyball on the Tuesday before Christmas vacation.

Kethamen compiled a 6-1 record in the round robin play-off. Married men finished second with a 4-4 record, Off-campus was third with a 3-4 record, and Faculty, 2-6, finished fourth.

While Ketha was downing Married Men in two games, 7-4 and 11-3, Off-campus trounced Faculty 15-3 and 15-0. In the second round Ketha beat Off-campus 9-5 and 13-5. Married Men barely squeaked by Faculty in three close games, 6-4, 3-5 and 12-0.

In the third and final round Married Men beat Off-campus 4-6, 9-7 and 8-5, and Ketha, needing three games, took Faculty 7-5, 5-8 and 11-2.

Ridout Named 'Athlete'

DICK RIDOUT, senior guard for the cagers, was named W-Club Athlete of the Month at a meeting in the gym Wednesday evening. Ridout received this same honor in March of last year. He transferred to Wartburg from Ellsworth Junior College and has been pacemaker for the Knights this year.

Team Starts Proof Of Pre-Season Poll

By Mike Becker

After a Christmas holiday from books but not basketballs, the hoopsters appear to be starting to live up to their pre-season national ranking. It seems that United Press International had rated the Knights 16th in the nation in the small college division. With a team displaying a wealth of talent, it has been a battle to see who will be starting each game.

I thought I might expose some of Wartburg's finest old basketball records to the public for its discerning eye. Here are the records that made Wartburg famous and in cases, infamous.

Most free throws, game — 15, Bill Adix against Loras

Most consecutive free throws scored in a season — 24, Gil Wessel

In two or more seasons — 42, Don Hein

Most points, career — 1,403, John Tuecke

Most individual points, game — 41, Bill Adix

Most field goals, game — 16, Bill Adix, Don Hein and Dick Ridout

Best individual average, season — 24.2, Bill Adix

Most rebounds, career — 1,282, John Tuecke

Most points, game — 110 against Luther

Most wins, season — 21, '58-'59

Most consecutive wins, season — 11, '58-'59

Most team free throws, game — 43 against Manchester

Most team rebounds, game — 83 against Dubuque, '61-'62

Least points scored, game — 2 against Central in 2-0 victory

I.M. basketball, or "kick your opponent before he kicks you," will start after semester tests are flunked. At the risk of losing my job as chief sports columnist for the Trumpet, I will have to go against the majority opinion and pick a different team for the I.M. basketball championship.

This seems to me to be the sport in which the Ketha "machine" will be derailed. I'm picking a tall, talented five from Grossmann II to do the trick. They have several frosh that appear to be able to play for the freshman team if they took the trouble.

These, combined with two deadly outshooters and a good playmaker, should spell trouble for the machine. The Off-campus team could again come through and, along with the Married Men, turn the league into a merry scramble.

Wrestling seems to be progressing as expected. The lack of experience is really telling, with only three wrestlers returning from a full season of competition.

Prospects don't appear too bright for our improving on our dual meet record or conference finish of last year. It's a good thing we don't have to extend our relations with State College of Iowa to the wrestling mats, as we might find ourselves a little overmatched.

14 Attend Sports Day

Approximately twenty members of the Women's Athletic Association are attending a sports day at State College of Iowa in Cedar Falls today.

The day, sponsored by the Athletic and Recreation Federation for College Women, provides an opportunity for WAA members from various colleges to demonstrate their skills.

According to Miss Ruth Ann Meyer, faculty adviser, activities included in the competition are badminton, singles and doubles; volleyball and several swimming events. Wartburg and the other participating schools will be competing as one team.

Points earned by individual groups will be totaled in determining the winner.

In preparation for the day, approximately fifteen WAA members journeyed to Upper Iowa at Fayette Tuesday night to improve their volleyball game. WAA selected participating women Wednesday night at a special meeting, after which the women practiced for today's activities.

KWAR Features Variety On FM

Whether one prefers romantic mood music late in the evening hours, The Cool Spot, Accent on the Atom, Foothill Fables or South African music, he can dial his FM radio to 89.1 megacycles and listen to any one of 1,845 records that catch his fancy.

On the other hand, if one has a yearning for rock and roll or country westerns, KWAR won't satisfy his desire, because station policy doesn't permit broadcasting of this type of music.

A typical day at KWAR begins with the continuity editor coming in at about 8 each morning. Sophomore Barbara Nelson's duties include pulling records, checking the files and program logs for the day's programs on tapes and getting them into the control room.

All music, announcements and similar items are programmed three weeks ahead of time in order to permit smooth operation of the station when on the air. Music director, Gary Baumann, is responsible for choosing the records that are to be pre-recorded.

Headquarters of the engineers is the control room, which is almost as modern as any station in the state. It boasts $7,000 worth of equipment and many up-to-date facilities.

Engineers are required to be licensed by the Federal Communications Commission. Previously, the engineers had fourth-class licenses, but in April the FCC will require engineers to have a third-class license. This will entail examinations for all engineers.

Duties of the engineers are varied. They are responsible for playing records, broadcasting news reports and station identifications and keeping KWAR on the air.

The engineer must also read the transmitter to see that everything is going all right. Layre Parkins serves as KWAR's chief engineer.

News commentators are re-

sponsible for presenting news on the air and writing it up. Same procedures are used by sports broadcasters.

News editor is sophomore Kathy Bishop and sports editor is Mark Holtz, freshman.

About fifty-five people are presently working at KWAR. Most of the jobs are entirely voluntary, with only top positions earning any wages. KWAR staff members are employed in various positions, thus promoting teamwork and the incentive that keeps the radio station operating.

Headquarters of KWAR-FM are located in the Little Theater. Besides the control room, facilities include a news room and two studios. One studio doubles as a continuity office.

Improvements at KWAR this year have been the addition of a tape recorder, which is used as a moving reporter and a remote system, which is used for sports events. A portable hi-fi component system is used for dances.

KWAR is planning a number of new programs for next semester. Tentative plans include broadcasting at least one play each week. Every other week this would be a Shakespearian play. Noon concert hours will be extended to run from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Wartburg's radio station hopes to place a greater emphasis on more campus activities by recording and presenting such events as student and faculty recitals, according to Verle Reinicke, station manager. Perhaps a live radio play will be presented sometime in March.

It seems so easy just to flip a switch and hear music or other programs, but it actually is the result of many hours of effort by the faithful KWAR staff.

Vollmer Initates Catalogue Library

Members of Vollmer House have started working on two innovations.

A graduate school catalogue library will be established which will be open to any persons wishing to inquire about graduate schools. A form letter is being sent to over one hundred graduate schools. "It is hoped that students will get a great deal of use out of these catalogues," said Mike Becker, junior.

Also, Vollmer House is establishing a Vollmer alumni directory. Letters are being written to all alumni asking them to cooperate.

"Included in this directory will be names, addresses, occupations and many other bits of information," said Becker, historian, who is preparing this.
